The Financial Services Compensation Scheme

The Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) is the independent body, set up by Government, which gives you your money back if your authorised* financial services provider is unable to meet its obligations.

The FSCS protects a range of products for both individuals and small businesses. Limits apply depending on the product you have bought. The FSCS does not charge individual consumers for using its service. The FSCS cannot help you if the firm you have done business with is still trading.

For further information on the scheme you can visit the website at:

www.fscs.org.uk

or write to:

Financial Services Compensation Scheme
10th Floor Beaufort House
15 St Botolph Street
London EC3A 7QU

* The FSCS can only pay compensation for customers of financial services firms authorised by the PRA or the FCA.

Law applying

This policy shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the law of England and Wales unless your central administration and/or place of establishment is located in Scotland, in which case the law of Scotland shall apply.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (19.5% of the population).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (i) older people should be able to live independently in their own homes;
- (ii) older people should be able to live in their own communities;
- (iii) older people should be able to live in good health and be able to take part in the life of their communities;
- (iv) older people should be able to live in dignity and respect.

The White Paper also sets out a number of key objectives for the Government:

- (i) to improve the health and well-being of older people;
- (ii) to improve the independence and quality of life of older people;
- (iii) to improve the opportunities for older people to take part in the life of their communities;
- (iv) to improve the dignity and respect of older people.

The White Paper also sets out a number of key actions for the Government:

- (i) to improve the health and well-being of older people;
- (ii) to improve the independence and quality of life of older people;
